

How to Access Information and Obtain Answers

Public Participation and Information Resources for the Remediation of Portsmouth Gaseous Diffusion Plant (GDP)

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

Public availability sessions

- Occasional informal sessions to provide information and opportunities for the public to talk with DOE staff and contractors.

Fact sheets

- Short, informative fact sheets will be prepared on major issues and activities related to future use and remediation.

Videos

- Videos will be presented at workshops and meetings, made available for use by stakeholder groups via DVD, and streamed on the web.

Community and key stakeholder briefings

- Groups and organizations may request briefings from DOE staff and contractors regarding key activities and decisions.

Public notices

- You can register to receive postcards or emails regarding additions to the administrative record, notices of public meetings, workshops, comment periods, and additional major activities and announcements.
- Notices will also be placed in local newspapers and posted on area bulletin boards.

